"ExpensiCon is how we share our motto 'Live Rich, Have Fun, and Save The World' with our top partners and industry thought leaders to build a new type of community that's laser focused on the future," says David Barrett, founder and CEO of Expensify. "And what better place to kick things off than a five-star luxury retreat, worlds away from the distractions of everyday life? It's the perfect environment to grow productive relationships with the most brilliant minds, and focus on solving the industry's most pressing problems."

The event will include a mix of keynotes, roundtable discussions, fireside chats, 1-on-1 networking opportunities and strategy sessions, and VIP events. In addition, attendees and their guests will also experience the beauty of Puglia on curated relationship-building excursions throughout the region that feature pasta making, wine tasting, yacht tours, and more.

Founder & Chief Solutions Officer of QA Business and previous ExpensiCon attendee Clayton Oates mentions, "One thing I loved about how Expensify approached ExpensiCon is that they threw out conventional wisdom about events. Rather than throwing a large-scale, content-rich event focused on short-term impact, at a boring convention center, they instead focused on laying a foundation for collaboration within and outside the accounting profession. Expensify's long-term view, balanced agenda, and ability to create magical experiences in the world's most stunning locations really contribute to the attendees getting the most out of the experience. ExpensiCon is the one event you don't want to miss."
